IMPORTANT NOTICE: Information on this website is subject to change at short notice due to the current Covid-19 pandemic.

Please click here for information and advice about the current COVID-19 outbreak and how to get help from your council, as well as other sources of information and support. You can also offer to volunteer.

You are here:  Home / Health and well-being / Learning disability / Activities for people with learning disabilities

Activities for people with learning disabilities

Living with a learning disability should not stop someone from leading an active and enjoyable life, and from being supported to get out and about in their local community.

Click on the People Who Can Help link in the main menu at the top of the page and you will find a range of organisations and schemes offering activities and other opportunities for people with learning disabilities.

Our Events calendar may also give you some ideas.

- Drama, dance, art and music
- Exercise and sport
- Places to go
- Education